PURPOSE OF DIRECTORY

The purpose of this directory is to provide a telephone and address list of the organizations and agencies that provide services and/or support to people in Montana with developmental disabilities. It contains 120 major listings, with many organizations offering multiple services.

The directory is limited in scope by being a telephone and address directory, it is suggested that you contact the individual organization for specific information on the services they offer.

HOW TO USE THIS DIRECTORY

The directory is divided into seven sections, with each section described below. It is hoped that this layout will allow you to easily locate the information desired. Sections are:

Map: The map of Montana indicates the five regions of the Developmental Disabilities Division's administrative structure. Contracted community-based services are monitored by a regional office in each of the regions.

Contracted Community-Based Service Programs: This two-page list of contracted programs is organized by region and then alphabetized by town. You'll be able to see at a glance if the Division contracts for services in a particular town.

Telephone and Address Section: This section is alphabetized by organization and lists the address, telephone number, and contact person for the organization. Many organizations offer multiple programs, and the same information is provided on the specific program when available. To easily identify non-contracted organizations, or other support services, an asterisk (*) is placed after their name.

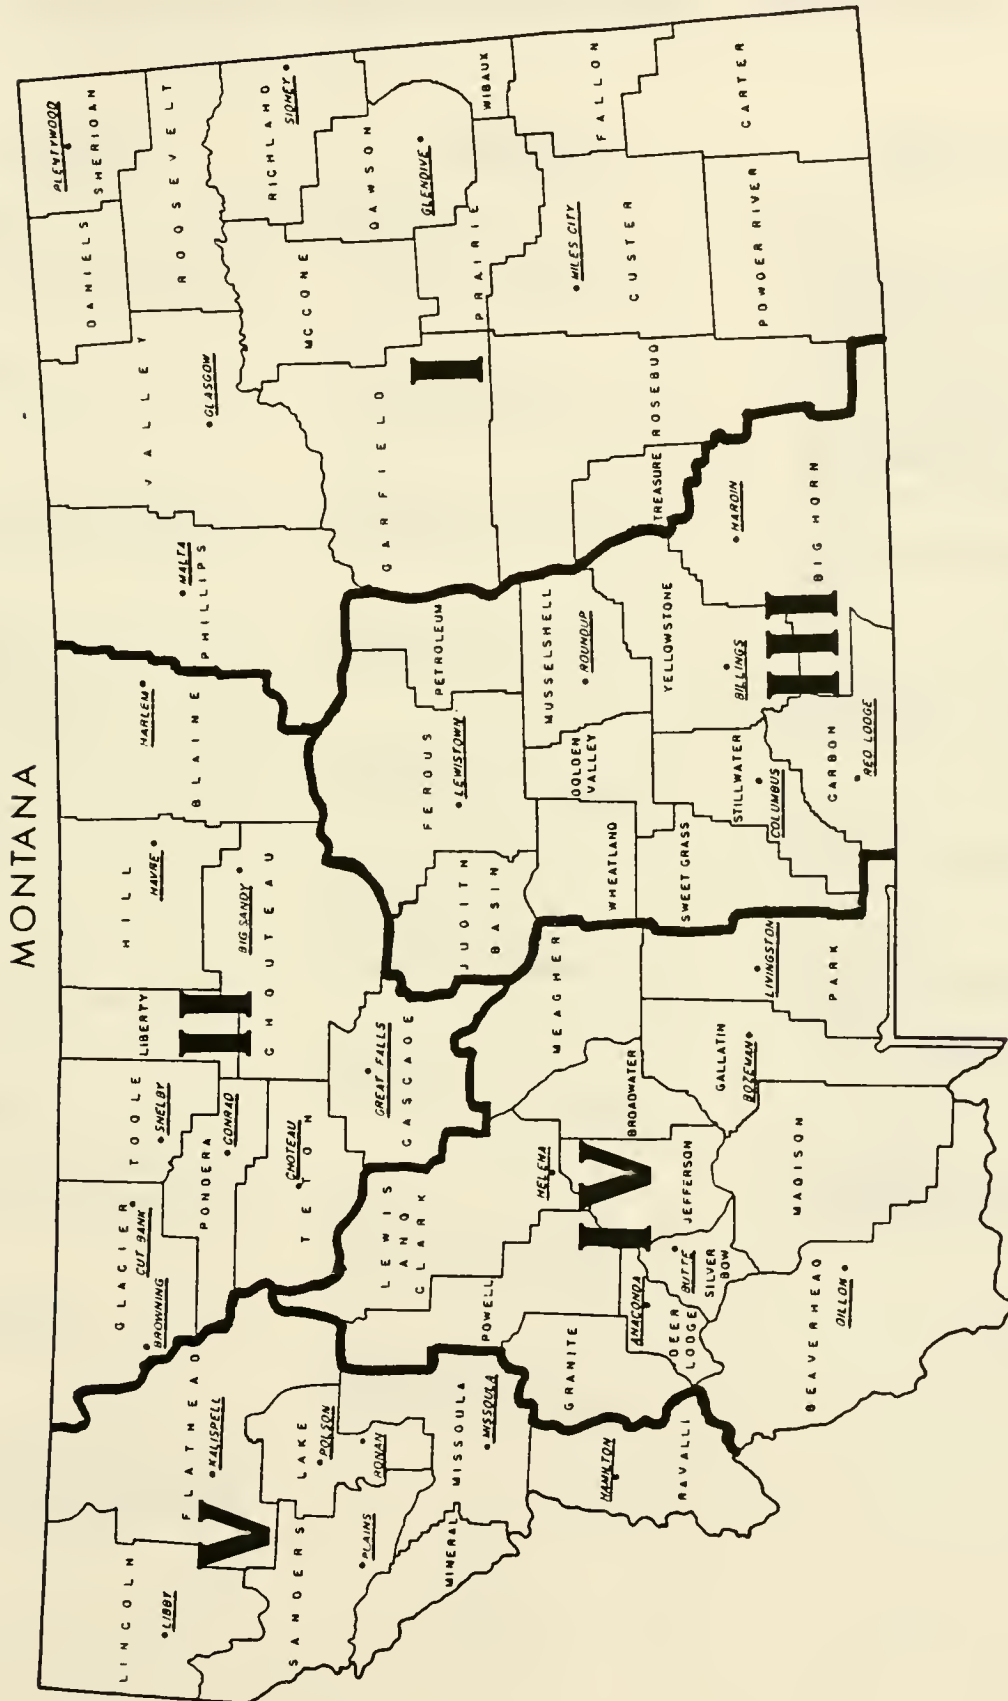

Service Definitions: The service definitions briefly describes each of the services contracted from the Developmental Disabilities Division, Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services.

Subject/Service Index: The service and/or subject index provides a convenient referencing system. If, for instance, you are interested in contacting organizations that provide recreation opportunities for people with developmental disabilities in Montana, you simply look under recreation in this index. After finding the name of the organization(s), then look up that organization in the telephone and address section. An asterisk (*) after a name indicates it is a non-contracted organization.

Contact People Index: This alphabetical index includes all the contact people listed in the telephone and address section. It is alphabetized by last name and includes the individual's organization and telephone number.

Directory Evaluation: Do you find the directory useful? What do you think about the format? Your comments on the directory will enable us to critically evaluate and improve subsequent editions. To make commenting simple, an evaluation form is provided on page 51.

SERVICE DEFINITIONS

(Defined by the Developmental Disabilities Division)

The community-based service system includes a variety of service programs designed to meet the individual needs of people with developmental disabilities. These individuals have a right to receive training and basic care in the least restrictive, most normalized community setting of their choice. The various services are designed to provide different levels of supervision, dependent upon the needs of individuals. Larger cities generally have a more extensive array of service programs, while smaller towns are more limited in the services available. The service definitions provided only include services contracted for by the Developmental Disabilities Division, Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services.

ADULT DAY SERVICES:

Intensive Adult Habilitation - These services provide training to adults who are not ready for vocationally oriented programs. Many individuals have few self-help skills; some have physical handicaps and some have extremely challenging behaviors. Higher staff ratios exist to meet more intensive training needs. There are nine intensive adult habilitation programs. The goal is to prepare the individuals to move to vocational services.

Work Activity Centers - The majority of adults are served in these day programs. The programs provide a range of services from functional academics, job skill training and production work for which individuals are paid. There are 26 work activity centers. The goal is to prepare individuals for sheltered workshops or supported or competitive employment.

Sheltered Workshop - These services are provided at seven facilities. The workshops are similar to work activity centers but have more work available. The goal of this service is to prepare individuals to move to competitive or supported employment.

Supported Work/Individual Job Placement - This service provides job placement for individuals in the community. Training for the job and follow along services are provided. There are individual job placement opportunities in 14 communities.

Senior Day Program - These programs provide training and activities designed for the elderly such as self-help skill retention, socialization and leisure skills. There are four senior day programs.

ADULT RESIDENTIAL SERVICES:

Intensive Training Homes - These homes serve adults who have few self-help skills or extremely challenging behaviors. More intensive training is provided and higher staff ratios exist. The goal is to prepare the resident to move to a less intensive home. There are 23 intensive training homes.

Adult Group Homes - The majority of adults live in eight-person group homes. Training is provided in independent living skills such as cooking, housekeeping, and leisure skills. The goal is to enable individuals to live more independently. There are 57 adult group homes.

Senior Group Homes - These homes provide a supervised living situation for elderly individuals with emphasis on leisure skills, social skills and maintenance of self-help skills. There are four homes, located in Great Falls and Helena.

Transitional Living Services - This service provides an intermediate step between group home and independent living. This service provides training for persons living in congregate apartments that are more able to do their own cooking, shopping and cleaning. Staff live at the complex to provide supervision. There are 13 transitional living programs.

Independent Living Training - This service provides support services to enable individuals to live in their own apartments. Staff visit individuals as needed to provide training in independent living skills such as menu planning and money management. Staff do not live on-site. The goal of this service is to prepare individuals to live independently in the community. There are 22 independent living training services.

Supported Living - This service provides a specialized array of services that assists individuals to live in the same types of living arrangements as people without disabilities do. The services consist of combinations of supports that enable the individual to live where they choose in the community.

CHILD & FAMILY SERVICES:

Services to Children & Families - Family training and support, respite and specialized family training services are provided to natural and foster parents of children with developmental disabilities. There are seven programs, each providing outreach services in multi-county areas.

Family Training and Support provides assistance to parents in training and caring for their child, birth through 21 years. This includes the Part H infant and toddler early intervention services for children up to three years.

Family Services provides for temporary relief periods to parents from the continuous care of a family member with a disability.

Specialized Family Care provides the extra support services to natural and foster families needed to keep their child at home.

Children's Group Homes - These homes only serve children who cannot remain with their natural or foster families. Many of these children have serious physical disabilities, medical problems, or challenging behaviors. The children learn self-help skills like feeding and dressing. There are 12 children's group homes.

Summer Day Program - This service provides a summer program for children. Training maintains skills learned during the school year and teaches new self-help, social and leisure skills.

Supplemental Training and Support Services (OPT) - This program provides supplemental training and related services such as physical therapy and speech therapy to pre-school children using Chapter I funds provided through P.L. 89-313 and P.L. 100-297.

SUPPORT SERVICES:

Adaptive Equipment - This service provides adaptive equipment and consultation statewide. The program designs and provides specialized equipment, such as wheelchairs, lifts, postural boards and standers.

Evaluation and Diagnosis Services - These services provide comprehensive evaluation services to determine handicapping conditions and recommend needed treatment and training services. There are three programs that provide these services.

Transportation - This service transports individuals to day training programs and provides access to the community from their residences.
